

SPYING IS BIG BUSINESS

$67 Million Was Spent Legally Invading your Privacy!
 (Court authorized bugs and wiretaps in 1989)

That figure is surely dwarfed by comparing it to illegal and unregulated electronic surveillance. Are you at risk? Can you protect yourself? If you are an individual concerned about privacy, a corporation concerned about industrial espionage, or a law enforcement officer looking for the latest technology, you need Full Disclosure.

Full Disclosure Magazine is recognized as the leading source for information on surveillance technology. ABC World News Tonight came to Full Disclosure during their coverage of the John Gotti trial for a demonstration of electronic surveillance equipment. Glen L. Roberts, Editor, Full Disclosure, was featured on CNN's coverage of Surveillance Expo '92. He has also been interviewed on over 100 radio stations on all aspects of privacy, surveillance, and related topics, such as how to get a copy of your FBI file.

Full Disclosure Magazine is owned by Continental Investigations Group Ltd., a detective agency run by a team of experts in the field of computers, telecommunications, and former intelligence officers. Subscribe today and keep up to date as technology blasts into the 21st century!
